DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-28 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-30 of copending Application No. 11/619,202. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because selectively playing the at least one audio file and/ or selecting an audio file would have been obvious to the skilled artisan in view the playback hardware configures to play at least one audio file upon activation of an associated vehicle function, see claim 1.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kolls.

Kolls shows a user customizable vehicle notification system 200 comprising storage 208 (col. 29, lines 59-67), and associating at least one audio file with activation of a vehicle function (col. 31, lines 5-15, 51-67); and an audio player 224 for playing an audio file upon activation of the associated vehicle function, see col. 32, lines 1-37.

Koll substantially represents the invention in figure 18.

Kolls does not state selectively playing.

The artisan clearly realizes from the teachings of Koll that the prompts and sounds are selected with respect to the monitored vehicle event, see col. 27, lines 1-26, col. 31, lines 5-15, 51-67, col. 32, lines 1-17, col. 53, lines 34-67, col. 54, lines 1-11, and figure 4.

The limitations as recite in claims 2-7 are realized in figure 4 and related disclosure.

Claim 8, note the PDA wireless device, PC, col. 54, lines 55-65.

Claims 9-14 are shown by Koll.

Claim 15 is obvious over the wireless device such as a pager, col. 54, and lines 55-65.

Claim 16, see alarm conditions 726 in figure 8B.

With respect to claims 21 and 23, the intermediate storage device reads on the Internet service provider with respect to a user at the vehicle and an appropriate agency in figure 2C.

With respect to claim 25, the key fob is analogous to PDA 324, col. 9, lines 55-67 and col. 10, lines 1-41 as well as a wireless phone 312.

Patentable invention is not involved in the use of a FOB that is functional equivalent to the intermediate storage devices of Koll.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5-28-08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants argue that Kolls fails to disclose any ability to associate an audio file with a vehicle function.

The association with the warning lies in for example, the vehicle monitor and metering interface 260 is interconnected with vehicle gauges and instrumentation and communicate vehicle telemetry and metrics whereby device 200 can monitor, record, and data communicate, figure 4, col. 34, lines 1-12. The data communication is through unit 224 in figure 4, see col. 31, lines 45-67.

Krolls state that vehicle telemetry and metric data can include global positioning system (GPS) data and engine performance data, col. 1, lines 29-32.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
